

Mable Rockwell Jones

1850-1950 Centennial Biography

Mable Rockwell Jones, wife of W.P. Jones, was born in Lehi, September 2, 1896 to Horace and Mandy Vandybucker Rockwell. She is a great granddaughter of Porter Rockwell. A portion of the Orin Porter Rockwell home forms part of the Don Loveridge home in Lehi First Ward.

Mrs. Jones is a graduate nurse. She began her profession in Lehi as Staff Nurse at Lehi Hospital where she enjoyed working with the late F. D. Worlton M.D. and Annie Bone nurse.

She was appointed nurse by the E.R.A, program October 2, 1934, and later Public Health Nurse for the State Department of Health. In 1939, she entered Oregon State Medical University graduating a year later with a Public Health certificate.

At the present time she is serving in North Utah County as school, county, and public health nurse.

A hobby of Mr. and Mrs. Jones is floral culture, specializing in iris.

She enjoys the companionship of her daughter Audrey Price and two grandchildren Bill and Jaylene.

She has one sister, Mrs. Lethea Frederickson.